The 'Commodity Futures Product List' window will then pop-up. Select the commodity futures product (and contract month when applicable) that you wish to add to your page and then click 'OK'. You can choose overseas commodity products in addition to Japanese domestic commodity products for price and volume data as well as for charting. Market depth is available for just TOCOM and TGE products. Remember, the default setting for charts is a daily chart for the forward contract for domestic products and the most active contract for overseas products. If you wish to see a different contract month than the forward month or a weekly or monthly chart instead of a daily one, make the selection on the right side under a-c and/or g-h.
